

Isle of Palms Police Department
Weekly Crime Report for March 26 – April 1, 2012

Case Synopsis

March 27: Tuesday

A victim reported that her ex-boyfriend gave her permission to store her surfboard on the front porch of his Cameron Boulevard residence, even though they had ended their relationship. However, the victim stated that she was contacted by her ex-boyfriend's mother, who also lives at the Cameron Boulevard residence, and was told to remove her surfboard from the property. Shortly thereafter, the victim went to the residence to retrieve her surfboard and found it missing. The ex-boyfriend's mother advised the victim that she did not know where the surfboard was and had assumed that the victim had picked it up. The victim returned, later, with her father who spoke with the ex-boyfriend's mother who then stated that her son probably took it surfing and left it on the beach, from where it was probably stolen. The investigation continues.

March 28: Wednesday

An Investigator was dispatched to Ocean Club Villas in reference to stolen property. Upon arrival, the Investigator spoke with the homeowner who reported that a number of televisions and electronic devices had been stolen from her condo. The homeowner stated that she had recently had some construction in her unit and provided the name of the company that provided the service. The Investigator also obtained the name of the cleaning company that entered the unit after the construction had been completed and prior to the arrival of the homeowner.

March 30: Friday

A victim met with an Officer to report suspicious circumstances surrounding rental property her had listed on the VRBO.com website. The victim stated that he was contacted by an individual wanting to rent his property and advised him that they were responding to a craigslist posting. The victim advised that he did not list his property on craigslist; however, the photographs and information that he had provided on the VRBO.com website had been duplicated and posted on craigslist with a different contact person. The investigation continues.

An Officer met with a victim at her vehicle, which was parked in a parking space in front of the Sea Cabins. The victim reported that she left her unlocked vehicle to go to the beach, and upon returning to her vehicle, she discovered that unknown person(s) had entered into her vehicle and removed her wallet from her purse, which had been sitting on the passenger front seat. The investigation continues.

March 31: Saturday

A victim reported that she had left her cellular telephone in her rental property while she was away participating in the bridge run. Upon returning, she had observed that housekeeping had cleaned the room, however, her cellular telephone had been stolen from her suitcase.

April 1: Sunday

An Officer met with a victim on Marsh Point Lane in reference to the breaking and entering of his motor vehicle. The victim reported that he had parked his vehicle in the drive of his residence and discovered the following morning that unknown person(s) had entered into his unlocked vehicle and took and carried away his complete set of golf clubs.
